Cosas Para Emergencias

The Personal Emergency Button is great when someone is confused and can't remember how to dial a phone or who is best to call in an emergency.

CosasPrep's Personal Emergency Button puts your eight most trusted contacts on a speed dial that can be accessed by the simple push of the big yellow button. This is actually a phone that can call any of your eight listed numbers. (It requires a SIM card, which is supplied by CosasPrep.)

There is a screen indicator for power, date, time, and GSM signal. With a 1100 mAh battery capacity, the Personal Emergency Button can last up to a week of standby time. This device is waterproof and can be charged either with the supplied docking station or wireless charger. This device works with either 3G or 4G, so it works well with all kinds of environments, including cities and mountains. See our trained personnel (in either store) to explore many other features.
